Chapter I: Introduction

- I.1. Definition: MicroClub, founded on March 5, 1985, is Algeria's first student science club, located at USTHB's Computer Science Faculty.
- I.2. Mission: As a non-profit organization, its mission is to promote the development of computer science and volunteerism through workshops, training sessions, projects, and events.
- I.3. Code of Conduct: Written by the Executive Board and approved and validated by the IR-HR department, this administratively approved document is designed to explain the internal operations and common practices of the club to its members. Although not an exhaustive list of rules, it serves as a guide to ensure smooth organization and prevent misunderstandings.

The code specifically aims to:

- Ensure smooth organization and operational efficiency within the club.
- Prevent conflicts and resolve misunderstandings among the membership.

Members are required to respect these directives. Penalties for violations range from formal warnings to potential expulsion (kicking) or permanent banning. In cases where an offense is deemed severe or illegal, the matter will be reported to the University Administration for further academic or legal action. Members are expected to stay informed and well aware of all contents herein.

Note

Effective from the date this Code of Conduct is published, all members agree by default to abide by these directives and acknowledge that non-compliance may lead to appropriate disciplinary actions.

Chapter II: Institutional Framework

II.1. Hierarchy and Authority: MicroClub operates through a structured chain of command. Members must respect the authority of department and section leads, Internal Relations & Human Resources department, and the Executive Board.

II.2. Language Policy: All club operations and communications are conducted in English, the global standard for computer science. Members are encouraged to improve their English proficiency for academic and professional growth.

II.3. Official Communication Platform: Discord is the mandatory primary platform for MicroClub. Being present on the server is a requirement for active membership. Furthermore, official decisions and announcements flow through designated channels on the server to ensure transparency and accountability.

II.4. Club's Sections: MicroClub is organized into three primary sections, each dedicated to a specific pillar of modern technology. Every section is composed of specialized sub-fields that ensure a comprehensive learning and project environment.

- Information Technology (IT) Section: A broad section covering the infrastructure and software that power the modern web and data systems.
 - ◇ Web Development.
 - ◇ Mobile Development.
 - ◇ Networks and CyberSecurity.
 - ◇ Artificial Intelligence.
- Robotics Section: Focused on the intersection of hardware and software to create autonomous systems.
 - ◇ Mechanics and 3D Design.
 - ◇ Electricity and Electronics.
 - ◇ Robotics Software.
- Game Development Section: Dedicated to the art and science of creating interactive digital experiences.
 - ◇ Game Coding.
 - ◇ 2D and Pixel Art.
 - ◇ 3D Art and Modeling.
 - ◇ Game Design.

II.5. Club's Departments: MicroClub is supported by eight specialized departments that manage the club's logistics, branding, and human capital. Each department plays a vital role in the club's sustainability and growth.

- Internal Relations & Human Resources: This department manages member relations and ensures smooth interpersonal dynamics within the club. It handles operations related to member welfare, support, and feedback, while remaining the sole authority in charge of members' data and private information.
- External Relations: Builds and maintains strategic partnerships with external organizations and corporate entities. This department secures the necessary sponsorships and resources to support club initiatives.
- Logistics & Event Management: Responsible for the comprehensive planning and execution of all events and club activities, ensuring all physical and logistics requirements are met for successful operations.
- Marketing: Focuses on managing the club's public image and outreach strategy. This department is responsible for promoting the club's values and activities to the student body and the general public.
- Design: Develops all visual branding and graphics. This department ensures that all club materials maintain a professional aesthetic and adhere to the official visual identity of MicroClub.
- Communication: Oversees official announcements and external messaging. It is responsible for content creation and ensuring that information is disseminated clearly and effectively across all platforms.
- Multimedia: Produces and manages all audiovisual content, including professional photography, video production, and animations, to document and promote the club's journey.
- Development: Focuses on the technical infrastructure of the club by building and maintaining internal tools, software, and digital systems designed to enhance operational efficiency.

II.6. Organizational Leadership: MicroClub's operations and strategic vision are guided by a leadership structure. This hierarchy ensures accountability, efficient workflow management, and professional representation in front of the university administration.

- The Executive Board: As the highest authority in the club, the Bureau is responsible for governance, strategic direction, and final decision-making. It is composed of the President, Vice President, Secretary-General, and Deputy Secretary-General. These individuals handle all administrative tasks and represent MicroClub in all official capacities before the USTHB administration and external partners.
- Team Leads and Assistants: This tier is responsible for managing departmental activities and overseeing specific technical or administrative workflows. They ensure that all tasks align with the overall objectives set by the Executive Board and serve as the primary bridge between the Executive Board and the general membership.
 - Selection and Appointment: To ensure operational continuity and technical expertise, leadership selection follows a strict merit-based protocol. Team Leads and their Assistants are appointed directly by the Executive Board. While outgoing leads may suggest potential successors, the final authority remains with the Bureau, as they bear the ultimate legal and administrative responsibility for the club's performance before the university.

Chapter III: Membership

Article 1: Membership Registration and Acceptance

Membership is governed by the eligibility criteria, registration procedures, and acceptance processes set forth in this article.

- 1.1. Eligibility: MicroClub is a student-only club. Only currently enrolled students may apply for membership. Non-students are not eligible to register or join the club in any capacity.
- 1.2. Registration Process: Registration is conducted through MicroClub's official registration platform at the beginning of each season.
- 1.3. Interviews: IR-HR may require interviews as part of the registration process, at their discretion.
- 1.4. Acceptance and Rejection: IR-HR handles all membership acceptances and rejections.
- 1.5. Recommendations: Only members recommended by the Executive Board, former Executive Board members, current Team Leads and Assistants, or the university administration may be recommended for membership. A limited number of recommendations is available per person.

Administrative Note for Article 1

Failure to complete the registration process within the designated period will result in non-admission for the current season. Falsification of registration information may result in immediate rejection or revocation of membership.

Article 2: Sections and Departments

Members must select a section and may optionally participate in a department.

- 2.1. Section Selection: Members are required to choose a section once the option becomes available.
- 2.2. Department Participation: Participation in a department is optional.
- 2.3. Section Change: Members may change their section once per year at the start of each season.
- 2.4. Department Rules: Each department maintains its own internal workflows and rules, which must be respected by both department members and non-members.

Administrative Note for Article 2

Failure to select a section within the designated period may result in administrative reassignment or limitation of participation in section-specific activities.

Article 3: Discord Presence and Reintegration

Active membership requires presence on the club's Discord server and completion of the reintegration process for returning members.

- 3.1. Discord Presence: Active membership requires maintaining presence on the club's official Discord server at all times, as established under the Official Communication Platform policy (see Section II.3).
- 3.2. Reintegration: Members who wish to continue for another season must complete the reintegration form issued by IR-HR at the appropriate time.

Members are assigned roles and may participate in event organization based on engagement, merit, and placement, in accordance with the provisions of this article.

- 4.1. Role Assignment: Members are assigned roles based on their section, department, and participation in club activities.
- 4.2. Event Organization: Members may join event organization by applying as staff through designated forms or by being selected as part of their department's team.
- 4.3. Merit-Based Assignment: Members may not request roles they have not earned through demonstrated participation and contribution.

Departments may recruit new members through seasonal openings or exceptional recruitment. Cross roles are also available to experienced members, in accordance with the provisions of this article.

- 5.1. Seasonal Recruitment: At the start of each season or during specific periods, departments may open recruitment based on their operational needs.
- 5.2. Exceptional Recruitment: Departments may recruit exceptional individuals outside of the regular recruitment period if necessary, subject to IR-HR coordination and approval.
- 5.3. Cross Roles: Cross roles allow experienced members who have fully integrated their initial department to join a second while maintaining their role in the first. This mechanism enables members to learn new skills and discover different aspects of the club, while remaining in their original environment to share their experience and to mentor and guide newer members.

Administrative Note for Article 5

Exceptional recruitment does not bypass standard membership requirements. Recruited individuals must still complete all mandatory membership procedures.

Article 6: Recognition System

MicroClub recognizes outstanding member contributions through a monthly recognition program.

- 6.1. Member of the Month: Each month, one or more members may be named “Member of the Month” as decided by the IR-HR department and the Executive Board.
- 6.2. Honorable Mentions: One or more members per department and section receive an “Honorable Mention” title each month. These are based on suggestions from Team Leads and finalized by IR-HR.

- 7.1. Inactivity Removal: Members may be removed from the club due to prolonged inactivity, as assessed by IR-HR.
- 7.2. Voluntary Exit: Members who wish to end their membership may submit a ticket through the ticket system with their request.

Administrative Note for Article 7

Alumni status carries distinct privileges and limitations and is granted to former members who meet the criteria set forth in this article.

- 8.1. Eligibility Criteria: Alumni status may be granted upon request to:

Chapter V: Disciplinary System

Article 23: Classification of Offenses

Violations of the Code of Conduct are grouped into two categories, distinguished by their nature and the severity of their consequences.

- 23.1. Class A: Behavioral Offenses. These cover conduct that affects the safety, dignity, or well-being of members and the club community. They include harassment, bullying, discrimination, privacy violations, misconduct in digital spaces, misuse of club identity, and unauthorized public representation. Class A offenses carry a broader penalty range and may result in stronger disciplinary measures.
- 23.2. Class B: Operational Offenses. These cover conduct that affects the orderly functioning of the club, its physical spaces, and its organizational workflows. They include violations of HQ rules, equipment misuse, failure to fulfill responsibilities, and procedural non-compliance. Class B offenses are generally addressed through formal warnings and access or privilege restrictions.

Note for Article 23

This classification serves as a general framework. The specific penalty for any violation is defined in the corresponding article's penalty box. IR-HR and the Executive Board retain discretion in evaluating each case individually.

Article 24: Conflict Resolution & Public Grievances

Any conflict, whether club-related or interpersonal between members, must be handled exclusively through the IR-HR department. Public escalation of any internal matter is governed by this article.

- 24.1. Proper Channels: Publicly airing grievances, accusations, or internal disputes (including on Discord, social media stories, group chats, or external platforms) is prohibited as it harms the community atmosphere and club environment.
- 24.2. Mediation: Members are encouraged to use the ticket system or contact IR-HR privately for mediation.

Penalties for Article 24

Violations of this article (particularly public escalation of internal disputes) may result in a Formal Warning. Repeated or severe offenses may lead to Immediate Ban.

Article 25: Warning System

MicroClub operates a structured warning system to address violations of the Code of Conduct.

- 25.1. Three-Warning Rule: Three formal warnings issued by IR-HR will result in a permanent ban, enforced by the Executive Board.
- 25.2. Apologies: Apologies do not negate warnings. Once issued, a warning remains on record unless formally archived.
- 25.3. Repeated Violations: Repeated violations of the same or related rules may lead to further disciplinary action beyond the standard warning count.
- 25.4. Immediate Bans: Immediate bans and kickings do not require three warnings and are reserved for severe misconduct as determined by IR-HR and the Executive Board.
- 25.5. Warning Archival: An archived warning is a warning that has been set to a dormant state and no longer counts toward the three-warning limit on a member's record. A formal warning may be archived at the sole discretion of the IR-HR department if a member demonstrates meaningful behavioral improvement, consistent commitment, and positive contribution over time. The archiving process is strictly managed by the IR-HR department. Archived warnings restore eligibility for leadership positions and alumni status. However, an archived warning may be taken into consideration and reactivated if the member subsequently engages in behavior of the same nature for which the original warning was issued.
- 25.6. Privacy of Warnings: Warnings are a private matter between the IR-HR department, the Executive Board, and the member concerned. Members must not share, discuss, or publicize their own or any other member's warnings in any club space or public platform.

Note for Article 25

This article defines the disciplinary framework itself. Attempts to circumvent, manipulate, or interfere with the warning system will result in an additional Formal Warning or further disciplinary action.

Article 26: Confidentiality of the Disciplinary Process

All disciplinary matters are handled confidentially through designated channels.

- 26.1. Submission of Grievances: Members may submit objections, complaints, or suggestions through the ticket system. All submissions are handled exclusively by the Medics (a dedicated sub-team within IR-HR responsible for confidential case handling). Members may also reach out to Medics directly through private messages if needed.
- 26.2. No Public Contestation: Contesting disciplinary decisions (including warnings, bans, or kickings) in public spaces such as Discord channels, social media, or group chats is prohibited and will result in additional disciplinary action, up to and including removal from the club.

Penalties for Article 26

Violations of this article (particularly public contestation of disciplinary decisions) will result in an additional Formal Warning or Immediate Ban, depending on severity.

Article 27: Finality of Decisions

Disciplinary decisions issued by the authorized bodies are final, permanent, and not subject to appeal, as set forth in this article.

27.1. Joint Authority and Finality: Warnings and bans are issued jointly by IR-HR and the Executive Board, are considered final, and are not subject to appeal.

27.2. Permanence of Bans: Bans are absolutely permanent unless otherwise decided under the warning archival provisions defined in the Warning System article.

Penalties for Article 27

Publicly challenging or disputing final disciplinary decisions will result in a Formal Warning or Ban, depending on severity as determined by IR-HR and the Executive Board.

Appendix

Executive Board Election

The Executive Board is the highest governing authority of MicroClub. It consists of four members: President, Vice President, Secretary General, and Deputy Secretary General, all elected by the club membership. At the end of each season, the club conducts internal online elections to select the new Executive Board.

Introduction

The election of the Executive Board follows a two-phase process: an internal online election followed by a University General Assembly. At the university level, the Bureau consists of seven members: the three principal executives (President, Vice President, and Secretary General) and the four Substitute members, the first of whom is the Deputy Secretary General. All seven hold the same authority and standing. Internally, the responsibilities and tasks of Substitute members may vary as determined by the new Executive Board.

Eligibility

Candidacy for any Executive Board position is governed by the following criteria. All candidates must satisfy every condition listed below at the time of nomination and throughout the electoral process.

- 1. USTHB Enrollment: Candidates must be currently enrolled students at the University of Science and Technology Houari Boumediene.
- 2. Faculty Restriction: Candidates for the positions of President and Vice President must be enrolled in the Faculty of Computer Science.
- 3. Membership Duration: Candidates must have been members of MicroClub for a minimum of one full year, from the beginning to the end of that period, at the time of nomination.
- 4. Active Participation: Candidates must have been active during the current season, with consistent engagement in club activities and events.
- 5. Responsibility and Commitment: A candidate who has disappeared or withdrawn from club activities without a valid reason, abandoned important assigned tasks, or failed to take their responsibilities seriously is ineligible to stand for election.
- 6. Experience Requirement: Candidates must satisfy at least one of the following:
 - Held at least one formal responsibility or role within the club.
 - Participated in the organization of at least two major events, primarily of an external or public-facing nature.
- 7. Clean Disciplinary Record: Candidates must have no active (non-archived) formal warnings on their disciplinary record at the time of nomination (see Article 25, Warning Archival).

Electoral Process

The electoral process follows a structured sequence of stages defined by the current Executive Board in coordination with IR-HR. The timeline for each stage is set according to the club's seasonal agenda. Voting is conducted online by secret ballot and proceeds position by position.

- 1. Election Announcement: The current Executive Board shall formally announce the opening of the electoral period, specifying the timeline, available positions, and eligibility requirements.
- 2. Pre-Election: Candidates shall submit their applications through the official election form within the designated period. All applications shall be reviewed to verify that each candidate meets the eligibility criteria set forth in this chapter. Candidates who do not satisfy the criteria shall be disqualified, with the justification communicated to them in writing.
- 3. Nominations: Approved candidates shall formally declare the position sought. A candidate may stand for the position of President and, if not elected, may stand for any of the remaining positions. This intent must be specified at the time of nomination.
- 4. Campaign and Presentations: Approved candidates shall campaign and present their programs and vision for the club to the membership within the designated campaign period. Campaigning must remain respectful, constructive, and focused on the candidate's qualifications. The following conduct is strictly prohibited and may result in immediate disqualification:
 - Negative campaigning, personal attacks, or defamation directed at other candidates.
 - The offering of incentives, favors, or promises of positions in exchange for votes.
 - Campaigning or promotion outside the official MicroClub Discord server.
 - Using the capabilities, authority, or influence of a held position within the club for campaign promotion.
 - Campaigning outside the designated period or through unauthorized channels.
- 5. Voting: Voting shall be conducted online by secret ballot. All active members are entitled to cast one vote per position. Voting proceeds position by position in the following order: President, Vice President, Secretary General, Deputy Secretary General.

Voting is weighted as follows:

 - Members of the current Executive Board hold a vote weight of four (4).
 - Active former Executive Board members (former executives who remain involved in club activities) hold a vote weight of two (2).
 - All other members hold a vote weight of one (1).
- 6. Tie Votes: In the event of a strict tie for any position, the vote shall be retaken among the tied candidates. The process shall be repeated until the tie is resolved.
- 7. Announcement of Results: The results shall be announced by the current Executive Board and IR-HR upon completion of the vote count and verification.
- 8. Transition and University General Assembly: The period between the internal election and the University General Assembly constitutes the transition period. At the General Assembly, members formally vote for the elected President. The President then chooses the elected Vice President, Secretary General, and Deputy Secretary General.

- 9. Selection of Substitutes: The Deputy Secretary General serves as the first Substitute. The President then chooses the agreed-upon remaining Substitute members, ordered as second, third, and fourth Substitute. All Substitute members must meet the same eligibility criteria as the elected executives.
- 10. Vacancy Succession: Should an Executive Board member leave their position or be removed during the term of office, the Substitute members shall fill the vacancy in their designated order. The first Substitute succeeds first, followed by the second, third, and fourth as needed.
